

Campus map Bldg. D 1F

This area is used as common space by the junior collage students and the university students. It is open ceiling structure with open space. Students can discuss and have meals by setting tables and chairs. 3 units of snowflake crystal motif Organic Electro Luminescence lighting are placed.

This is a facility to practice cooking a large amount of meals such as school meals. The feature is that the facility consists of several rooms, and students can practice not only cooking but entire flow "carrying food in → pre-preparation → cooking → setting tables → eating → clearing tables".

This is a cooking practice facility. Each cooking table incorporates gas cookers and a combination range, which integrates a gas oven and a micro wave, and various type of food can be cooked.

There are pellet boilers and rain-water storage tanks.

To Bldg 3 of the junior collage

This facility is used for practices assuming hospitals and/or welfare facilities. Beds, meal care tools for persons requiring nursing care and measurement and/or examination tools are equipped.

Community cooperation Research Promotion Center is equipped for realization of a function as a think tank for research in health and nutrition, and as a focal point in life long education for people involved in nutrition.

This is a practice room for nutrition education. Practices such as planning, consultation and evaluation in response to objective persons to be done in this room. PCs and food models for nutrition education are equipped.

<Floor mainly practice rooms are located>
Such as "Practice facility to provide a large amount of meals" where a large amount of food can be cooked, "Cooking practice room" which equips cooking facilities and tools, "Clinical nutrition practice room" that assumes practice in hospitals and welfare facilities and "Nutrition education practice room" which equips PCs with which information related to nutrition is collected and analyzed are arranged. In addition, "Community Cooperation Research Promotion Center" to bear contribution to the community and society is arranged.